THE PROGRAMME FOR TO-DAY.

The races for to-day at Saratoga are not particularly stractive, neither are the entries numerous. It is the far-end of the season at this place, and the interest in "the sport of kings" is evidently failing off. The first race is for two-year-olds, special weights, The first race is for two-year-olds, special weights, three-fourths of a mile. There are seven entries. The second race, three-fourths of a mile heats, and special weights has only five entries. Third on the programme comes a race of nine furlougs, also special weights. It, two, has only five entries. A selling race comes next with ten entries for it. A selling race comes next up the day of aport. Five are entrod for it. The entries are as follows:

Hogan says the woman could not write. The police are inclined to place little eredence in the story of suicide and think that the woman was potsoned. A post-mortem ex-mination will be held to-day.

ANNOYING WOMEN IN FIFTH-AVE.

Dr. Ollando W. Joslyn, who lives at the Hote Sachbarn, was waiking in Fifth ave., near Twenty-intri-st, on Monday evening with his family, when a strange woman came up to mem and asked for protection from a man woo had been trying to get her hands. Dr. Joslyn said he would see the woman home and the man waiked away. Afterward the fellow was seen to put his hand through the arm of another woman, who, upon haquiry from Dr. Joslyn, said that he had heat he for the said her so that she could not get away. The doctor prouptly knowled toe man down and then called a policeman. The man proved to be Al-xander Laston, a married man, of the same waith the Al-xander Laston, a married man, of the same anything wrong," but Justice Ford said he would require $300 for his good behavior for a month, ca nedly remarking that he ought to have had his brains knocked out.

A GIRL TRIES TO ESCAPE FROM PRISON.

Mamie Monroe, are fifteen, whose parents live at.
No. 90 Throop.ave. Brooklyn, was charged with vagrancy in Justice Nacher's county yesterday. The officer stated that he had sound her asleep in a hallway in South Fourthest, near fiewessel. She was placed in a small room adjoining the courtroom, which is autromaded by high bars within a foot of the ceiling. Shortly uctore noon the Justice ordered the prisoner to the bar. Officer James Kelly mnocked the door of the room, but the girl was not to be found. A glance through the room showed an open window leading to the roof. Hastening to the window the officer saw the prisoner as she was about shiding down a water leader. On seeing the officer she turned back and cried bitterly. In order to have reached the roof she had climbed over the bars. After a severe lecture the Justice discharged the prisoner. A GIRL TRIES TO ESCAPE FROM PRISON.

From The Providence Journal.

It had been whispered about the hole! that Mr, flenry Irving was about to land, and many people went down to see him, including a company of laddes from New-York and Washington who had se a him on the stage. All lanued at once except Mr. E. A. Buck, of "The Spirit of the Times" who remained behind to be the nomenclator of the party. When he saw that everything was all right he stepped from the upper deck directly upon the wharf "Mr. Irving," said he, "permit me to introduce you to His Majessy, Nicholas Ball, King of this Cannibal Island." A hearty laugh followed, when the others were presented in due form. Meanwhile the ladies had been standing impatiently by as close as good breeding would warrant. "Oh, isn't he moe!" exclaimed one in so lervent an aside that it reached the great actor's cars, and was not without effect in increasing his pleasant smile. Others made remarks of similar tenor, but they soon changed their tactics and besieged Mr. Ball for an introduction. They seemed to have influence at court; at any rate, their request was granted, and soon Mr. Irving had to bear the brunt of their attack. It looked almost as if they would insist upon kissing him in their enthusiasm, but he escaped, as the Psatmist has it, by the skin of his teeth. The party now filed up the dock, Mr. Irving the last, as he seemed in no particular hurry to escape from the fair be-eigers. The visitors were soon whirled up the hill to the Ocean View, Here were many acquaintances of every one of the visitors, and they received a right hearty welcome. The pressure here was too great even for Mr. Irving, and he escaped from his fair tormentors only by fleeing to an Indian hugister who displayed his wares in the hall under the main stairway. By the time he had talked with the Indian ten or fifteen minutes, examined all his goods and purchased liberally, he had regained his composure and turned to face the music once more.

The meeting of the Subway Commissioners gesterday was one of the liveliest that that body had held. Every seat was occupied long before the hour of opening. Fresident Flower was unusually thoughtful. Commissioners Moss and Hess seemed to share their as occasies carnesteess. Secretary Fairchild becautoread the minutes of the last meeting. He had not proceeded far when "Jimmy" Oliver asked to have a paragraph repeated. It was one in relation to the Board directing its engineers to continue their investirations for the purpose of finding if possible a conduit system superior to the one adopted. Mr. Oliver appeared for a patentee, whose system has already been unseed upon by the Commission. Mr. Florence told Mr. Oliver to discuss the matter with the engineers.

Dr. Ledoux, the chemist, was called upon for his report of the tests made by him has already been given in 17th. Buns. In discussing his report Dr. Ledoux said that there was nothing in the tests and analyses the Commission to the itself up to any particular asphalt, or could ray with material from which he shows as an authority on these matters, to send me data bearing on this subject.

Mr. Callender, in compliance with this request, prepared a long article advocating natural cement for the subways in preference to the Dorsett material. I have use all the chemical and physical tests of Mr. Dorset's material, have obtained samples of his sewer pipe which have been under ground for four years in Cheago, and I must admit that none of my tests have demonstrated any lack of dursointy in the material.

Dr. Ledoux added that for this reason he did not feel werranted in preparing his spect cations to exclude artificial cement, especially since it had stood all the tests of the Commission better than all the natural asphates with one exception. As soon as Dr. Ledoux had finished his reading Mr. Flower turned toward Mr. Lauterbach, and with considerable emphasis said:

And now I want to bear from the construction company. I see by some of the papers that it is not ready to learn work, that it has all gone to pieces, and I do. It know what else. How is it, Mr. Lauterbach, are your folks ready to start work or not!

Mr. Lauterbach said that if the contracts were satisfactory he would say a few words in behalf of the company. He explained how, as counsel for the United Laves and other rivals of the Western Union fe egraph Company, he had become interested in the work of putting the wires underground, believing that until this was done by the commission no outside company could extend its business in this city. This led to the formation of a company to assist the commission in carrying out its work. This company decided to adopt no particular system, but was simply prepared to do the work the commission vanted done as it would direct. After referring to the trials which the company had undergone, be said:

I want to say right here now in behalf of our company that if the commission feels any regrets for having entered into a contract with no it is at liberty to nestroy the contract now. Treat us with regenable justice. I am confident that the work will be well done.

Mr. Flower in reply said that the Commission am confident that the work will be well done.

Mr. Flower in reply said that the Commission would give the company every support so long as the work was done right, "and," he added, "we mean that the work shill be done right. By your works ye shaid be known."

Mr. Gibbens said that the Commissioner of Public Works had not yet given his consent for opening the streets. MR. MARTINE AND THE COMAN CASE.

District-Attorney Martine paid his semi-weekly visit to the city yesterday. He is staying with his family at Scabright. He was asked about an interview with Police Justice White, who it was alleged had demanded the reinstatement of John M. Coman, who was recently dismissed from the chief ciers, ahip in the District-Attorney's office, because Mr. Martine districted him. Mr. Martine said:

"I did see Judge White on Friday, but he made no demand' on me. He said that Mr. Coman feit very much huit at his dismissal and thought that he had been unfairly treated. Judge White asked whether I was willing to investigation, and that if I was actisfied that injustice had been done. I would certainly reinstate Mr. Coman. BIX CONSOLATION HANDICAPS. THE PRIZES DISTRIBUTED AMONG SEVEN STABLES. The PRIZES DISTRIBUTED AMONG SEVEN STABLES.

The Monmouth Park Association closed yesterday the most successful racing season in its history with a big troop of spectators, lively betting and constant interest. It was a consolation day for the stables that had won little at Monmouth this year. The seven races were won by seven different stables, and the successful ones were Appleby & Johnson William successful ones were Appleby & Johnson, William Donohue, the Fairfax Stable, W. C. Daly, the Preakness Stable. C. H. Pettingill and Frederick Gebhard. Most of these owners have been unlucky at Long Branch. The conspicuous exception among those who had been buffeted by Fortune and yet got no jam when the sweets were handed around was Mr. Withers. But he has so profound a contempt for Fortune anyway, and takes so little pains to conciliate her, that it is not strange the fickle jade passed him

Appleby & Johnson's Attorney won the first race easily and lost the fourth by a short head only. Evidently he is a better colt than the handicapper or the public thought. Poor Heel-acu-Toe looked as baggard and thin as the County Democracy of this town now looks. You could hang a hat on any one of her ribs. Her skeleton was so painfully obtrusive as to start a theory that Mr. Cassatt intended to send her down to his farm today for use as a scarcerow. The mare has bad too day for use as a scarcerow. The mare has bad too much racing. Elgin, who has greatly improved, won the second race as he pleased.

In the two-year-old handicap five crossed the line only heads and necks apart, the California colt Oriflamme getting first place, the Julietta colt second, a short head before Falsestep.

Fitzpatrick on Peckskill outrode Donohue on Dry Monopole in the handicap for three-year-olds, and Attorney coming with a rush at the end stole second place from Dry Menopole.

Mr Galway's Rupert has become a fine stayer, and he outran Louisette easily in the handicap at a mile and three-quarters. Louisette, however ran a better race than any before this year and showed leas temper. Pettingill's old gelding Valet captured the selling race without difficulty.

Springfield and Ten Booker ran atrociously. Both have become stale and have lost their speed for a time at least.

DA CHUF THE WINNERS. SARATOGA, Aug. 24.-Again the favorites came to the front to-day in four out of the five races on the programme, the exception being the defeat by that he was barred from the auction pools. Although the card was light in the number of entries the contests were good, particularly the race for the Kenner Stakes, which was run in the extraordinary fast time of 3:344. being only 24 seconds slower than the time made by Hindoo in 1881, and a quarter of a second slower that Boatman's in 1882. The California pair showed poorly at the finish, but Linden, who had been specially pre-pared for the race, ran exceedingly well. O'Fallon, pared for the race, ran exceedingly well. O'Fallon, Drake and Aretino won their races easily. Drake was the first of the get of the imported stailion Muscovy that ever started in this country. The steeplechase had two mishaps, Joe Shelby and Hinda coming to grief at the water jump, and their jockeys failing. No injuries were sustained. The weather was suitry and parity cloudy, the attendance large, and the track fast. The betting was spirited, aithough eleven nookmakers left to-day for the new Brooklyn track.

The young man stopped and dismounted at the end of the bridge and iffed his machine upon the coping. The act was notice, by a couple of gentlemen smoking under the trees, but it was looked upon as a freak of a young man who had been drinking a little too much, and no particular attention was paid to it. The next moment there was an exclamation of horror from the direction of the oridge, and the young man was seen mounted upon his thirty-linch wheel dealberate, riding along the narrow coping. The sight froze the blood of the ladies and children picnicking in the gorge below and was enough to appair the stoutest heart. the pit-like grounds to witness the game in the afternoon between the New-York and Kanass City clubs. The neat in the cooler portion of the Hilly City was about 100 in the shade and in those low, walled-in grounds it was almost unbearable. The cowbeys seemed to revel in the furnsce-like heat, but the New-Yorkers did not. The game can be told in a few words. Weich was wild and not effective. Dessley said that he would catch the game of his life, but did not do it. "Grasshopper" Jim pitched the best game he has pitched this year and the usually heavy-batting giants could do nothing with his lightning-like curves. If he pitched that way with his lightning-like curves. If he pitched that way every day he would kill all the catchers in the country every day he would kill all the catchers in the country in a year. Get hardt received a painful injury sliding to the home plate, wrenesing his left wrist and may not be able to play to-morrow. Dorran and Gillespie changed positions as the former was afraid of shother sanstroke. Hits by Rudfort, Rowe and Whitney and errors by Ward and Comor gave the Cowboys three runs in the opening inning. The New-York's one run was made in the fifth inning on a hit by Welch and Gerhardt's three-baguer. Umple Fulmer said before the game referring to the excitable Western spectators:

"I ain't afraid of their vells, out as soon as they pull their gous I'm roing to duar."

OF DARKNESS

The Metropolitan and Brooklyn clubs played a tie game of baseball on Staten Island yesterday. The contest was well-played in the field, and what errors contest was well-played in the field, and whaterrors were made were not of much importance and had little effect on the game. The Brooklyns batted Mays hard, but the fits were badly scattered and did not count to any great extent in the run getting. The Metropolitans falled to gauge Harkins's curves. At the end of the seventh hunling it began to grow dark and the rame was called with the score 3 to 3. Melster the new second baseman of the Metropolitan club, did well. DARING FEAT OF A BICYCLER.

Washington Telegram to The Pittabura Dispatch.

A daring and foothardy feat was performed by a begiver this afternoon at Caoin John Bridge, near the city. The place is a seneral pleasure resort, about twelve inlies from town, over the unitary road built by Jeff Davis while the latter was Secretary of War. The bridge is said to be the largest single span of masonry in the word. It is 125 feet high and about 200 feet long, a single magnificent aren spanning a deep and rocky gorge.

ONE MORE VICTIM

Does not equinine do more harm than good! This is an important quantine, and upon the answer to it depends a great forthcoming change in needical practice.

That quinine is a powerful tome and antifebrific cannot be disputed; but facts show it to be also a drug whose continued use is attended with results which are often worse than the discasses it is meant to relieve and cure. What these are every educated and thoughtful physician knows. In the light of long and wide experience to it is at least a debatable point whether quinine has not extend years for the grace more new letters in the erresuled from it. The late Dr. J. Marion Sims said there should be a law against the indiscriminate use of quintine.

there should be a law against for indiscriminate use of quitatine.

A lady, Mrs. Leonard, living at number 205 East 107th-st,
New-York, had sudered the years with maiaria in its worst form. She was young and had previously been strong and well. After a time both mind and body yielded and orok down utterly, and her friends feared she would become insame. Herphysician gave quinine freely and continuously.
The discase, transiently checked, returned, complicated low with quinine poisoning. Between the two Mrs. Leonard was physically wheeked, and in her despair told her husband air hoped for deliverance only through death.

At this crisis a cityular accidentally fell into her hands in which she read this paragraph: "The new quinne that does not still. Every partient in St. Francis Hospital treated with Kaskine has been disclaraged cure."

Finding she could test Kaskine without especial medical counsel, Mrs. Leonard procured the article, used it according to directions, and was virtually restored to health in less that three week.

In a word Kaskine has the wonderful virtues of quining without reaction. It always helps—never health in less that three week.

Kaskine cures on the new septic theory of disease—it destroys all the disease germs in the system. Kaskine is the Quinine of the future.

JERSEY CITY. James Daw, of No. 169 Seventh st., for eighteen years a to bacco inspector at Thirteenth and Provost sts., was run over and killed on the Eric Raliroad yesterday afternoon.

A shocking case of infanticide in the tenementhouse No. 216 East Eightieth-st. was brought to the notice of the police vesterday. Two rear basement rooms had been occupied for a month by Catharine Stalb, a stout young German woman, who said she was unmarried and claimed to support herself by taking in washing. Before 6 a. m. yesterday she was seen in the nallway wringing her hands and evidently much excited. She said thieves had broken into her rooms and stolen her best dress.
Smoke was noticed in her rooms, and she cried out that the thieves had set fire to the place. Edward Murray, the landlord, found her best on fire, and extinguished the flames with a few buckets of water. When the rubbish was being cleared away, Mr. Murray found the mutilated body of an infant on the floor. Its head had been severed from the body with some sharp instrument, and the body and limbs had been partly burned.

Policemen who were called in to investigate the crime found a bloody axe with which the baby had evidently been murdered previous to the fire. Saspicion rested upon Catharine Stali, and she was taken to the Eighty-eighth Street Police Station.
She stoutly denied all knowledge of the infant's death, and declared that she did not know that a baby had been in her rooms. When surgeons exammed her and ascertained that she bad become a mother within a week, she still clung to her denisis. She declared that she never had been married, and that she had not given birth to a child.

MR. MARTINE AND THE COMAN CASE.

Abundant proof of her recent confinement was discovered in her room. It was ascertained also that she had lived for three months at No. 239 East Eighteeth-st, with Otto Williams, a young butcher in the employ of August Lenz, at No. 1,542 Secondave. Both she and Williams a lamed that they were narried. Persons in the house noticed the woman's condition, and the marriage was doubted. The landlady ordered Williams to vacate his rooms a month ago. Catharine then moved across the atreet, but Williams went away and did not appear again in that neighborhood. At his employer's store it was said yesterday that he went to Baitimore two weeks ago.

When asked about Wilfiams, Catharine denied that she ever had lived with him. Her refusal to acknowledge the truth in the face of discovery, created a suspicion that she was insane, although the appeared to be rational. As she had not received medical attention, she was taken to follow the Hospital, a prisoner. As soon as ter condition warrants, she will be arraigned on charges of infanticide and arson.
